Work . . .

Everyone at Lexington High School has the determination and willingness to work for the satisfaction of their own mind and for the school's ideals. They participate in both large and small tasks and try to do their share. Work does not end in the classroom; it continues on past the last bell of the day. Co-operation and hard work, not only academically but physically, help to make Lexington the great school it is. However, life at LHS is not all work for . . .

. . . it can be fun, too. During rare moments, students find time to create their own fun. Everyone has a time in which they want to do something other than the regular routine or a time in which they want to express their feelings. Whether it is a special day, moments in a class, or time after school, students find time to create the activity they need. School life is not the drudgery some people think it is. Contributing to the work and fun at LHS are . . .

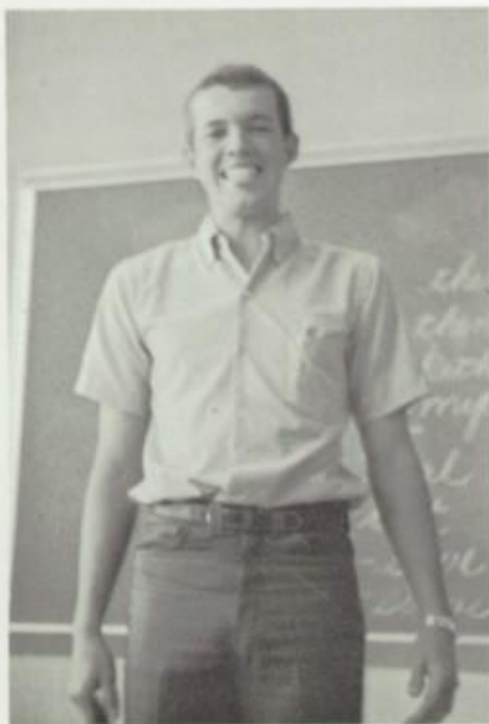

... Plus Fun ...

... Plus Familiar Faces ...

. . . the familiar faces we see each day. One sees many faces of many moods and expressions--thoughtful, serious, peaceful, happy, determined, disgusted, solemn, and mischievous. Along with the work and fun of LHS, these moods tell the feeling of the student body during and after school.

. . . Plus Progress . . .

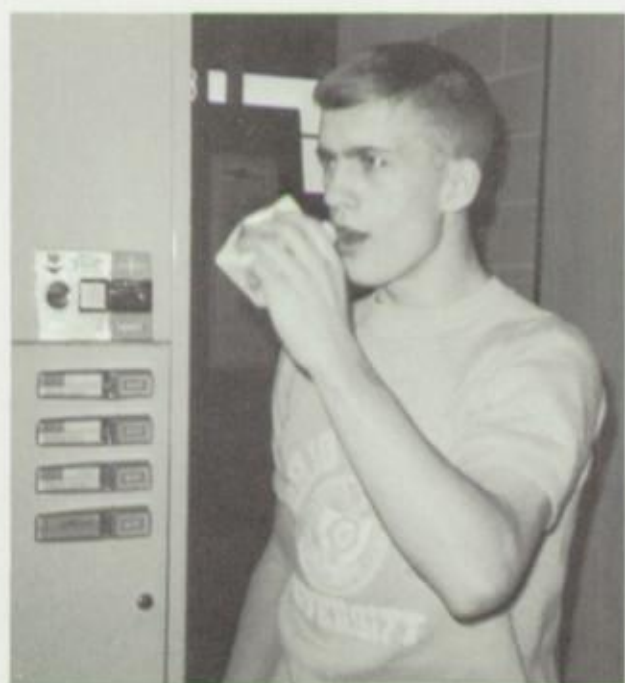

. . . Equal Life at

All of these facets--work, willingness, fun, ideas, diversion, progress--are requisites for learning and for a pleasant atmosphere. This is the type of environment which makes a memorable year for all involved. All of these facets of LHS equip the student to face the world ahead, but these same facets stay behind to improve and advance the quality of education here at Lexington High School.

ACTIVITIES

The Voices of Student Government

This year, the Student Council has joined the National Association Student Council and has adopted a new constitution. Besides attending monthly meetings, they are responsible for Homecoming and cheerleading policies, as well as providing the Christmas and Homecoming decorations.

The student assistants are a great help in the classrooms as well as in the office. They perform such duties as grading papers and assisting in the biology, chemistry, and commercial classes, and in the reading lab. In the office the girls help the secretary in answering the telephone and signing admit slips. Although they are not an organized club, the student assistants help to carry out vital functions of the school.

1967 Lexian Staff Makes Progress

One hour 'till the deadline!

With the help of Miss Carol Cotterman, new advisor of the LEXIAN staff, the staff members prepared a new and larger annual. In addition to more pages, the LEXIAN featured color in the 1967 yearbook for the first time.

Staff members worked hard to make the deadlines for their sections. Each was responsible for the following:
 Brian Adair--Co-Editor & Sports
 Cheryl Armstrong--Co-Editor & Introduction

Serving the school by informing it, the HI-TIMES staff published ten regular issues of the LHS newspaper. All members attended a Journalism Workshop at Ohio State University where Carol Teaters received an award for outstanding feature writing. The HI-TIMES earned an All-American honor rating, the highest rating given by the National Scholastic Association. Shari McLaughlin was given the 1966 Journalism Award. For their annual banquet, the staff selected the San Dar Smorgasbord.

Pep Club Shows School Spirit

1966-1967 Section

Besides traveling to both home and away games, the girls of the pep club practiced earnestly every Tuesday learning new cheers to show their support of the team. This year's "L" was white with a purple background and flash cards were added for new routine chants.

"Yes, Madame?"

On April 7, 1967, the Junior Class presented the situation comedy, "Oliver Oliver," by Paul Osborn. The play involved a once wealthy mother and son living on credit in a New York mansion. The three-act comedy revolves around Oliver, the son, and Constance, his mother, who are trying to get each other to marry wealthy mates.

Created by Juniors

Palm trees and tiki gods adorned Grotto Hall on the evening of May 13 for the 1967 LHS Junior-Senior Prom. During the buffet-style banquet, couples danced to the music provided by the Rene Mondron band. Junior Vicki Pierce sang "As Long As He Needs Me" accompanied by Carol Cicolani. Rick Sowash played a piano solo. The after-prom party was held at the Snow Trails Ski Lodge.

The Acacia Fraternity from Purdue University chose the semi-finalists from the thirty-two senior girls' pictures that were submitted. The above four girls are the 1967 LEXIAN COURT.

Lexian Queen

Brenda Powell

Mr. Ed. J. Schetter chose Brenda Powell as our 1967 LEXIAN QUEEN. Mr. Schetter was a professional dancer and acrobat but retired from that profession because of his growing family. He began teaching and lecturing on dancing and physical fitness. He is now engaging his full efforts on yoga for the American family. Mr. Schetter lectured on and demonstrated yoga at LHS on April 24, 1967.

Serving as choir president, Jeff Hofacre has shown enthusiasm and initiative in his work. His willingness to help and his pleasant and friendly personality make him an outstanding student.

A very fine commercial student, Judy Bollinger is always willing to do more than she is asked. Her friendly and conscientious attitude has made her an outstanding student.

Doing an outstanding job on this year's LEXIAN, Cheryl Armstrong proved herself to be a very excellent editor. She showed unusual enthusiasm and initiative in doing the high quality of work done on this year's 1967 LEXIAN.

Ten Outstanding

A friendly and helpful person, Pat Heichel was recommended for her remarkable skill and ability in all girls' athletics.

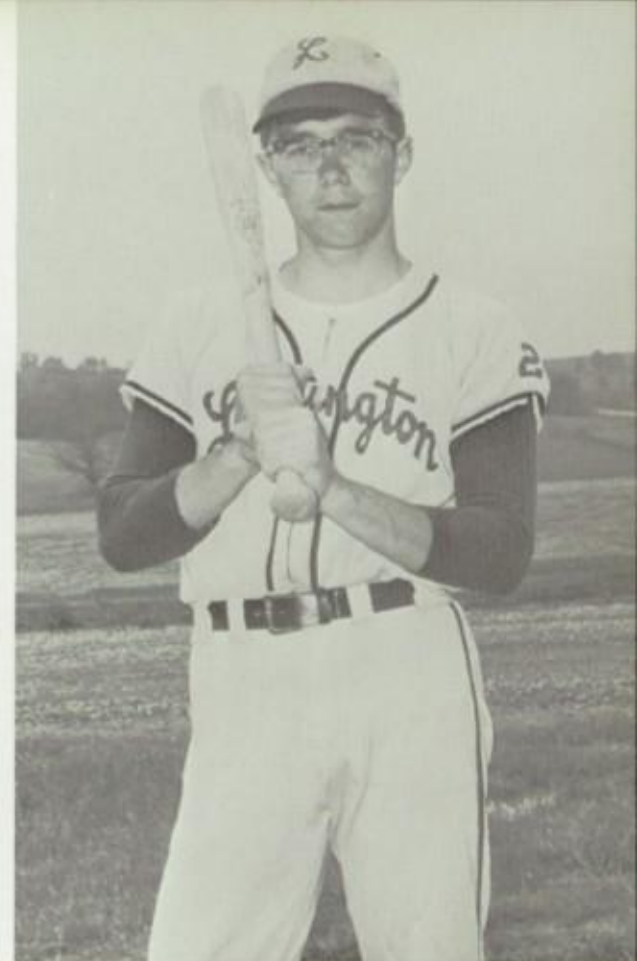

An outstanding speech club worker and a good leader is Brenda Powell. She has proven herself to be an imaginative and a talented person.

An excellent Home Ec student, Debbie Bair was selected for her willingness to co-operate in every-way, her winning personality, and her ability to work with younger students.

A great asset to sports is Dave Roberts who has shown a lot of initiative this year. He has proven to be an outstanding student because of his personality, his attitude, and his activities.

Seniors Selected

Linda Schamber, an extra-ordinary English student, submitted excellent poetry and artwork to the newspaper this year. Her outstanding work in class has made her an unusual student of language.

A member of LHS band and orchestra for four years, Debbie Bradfield has shown outstanding leadership ability. Her high morals, pleasant personality, and conscientious attitude have made her a good school citizen.

As Key Club president, Jim Warner has shown remarkable leadership ability. He is an excellent student and an outstanding member of the basketball, cross-country, and track teams.

This year's marching and concert band began their practice drills early by attending one week at Camp Nelson Dodd during August. Returning to Lexington, the band proceeded to fulfill their active schedule. As well as marching at all the Lexington football games, they participated in such activities as Halloween and Memorial Day parades and spring and mid-winter concert performances. Throughout the school year, all band members worked ardently to earn money so they could travel to and participate in Montreal's Expo '67.

Lettermen Sell Athletic Programs

The Lettermen, which are associated with the Boosters Club, help run the athletic program at LHS. The largest project was the selling of programs at the athletic events. A high school boy automatically becomes a member of Lettermen's Club when he earns a varsity letter from any of the various sports at LHS.

"If you want my opinion, says Joe . . . "

"Would you like to buy a program?"

"What's so special about a beanie?"

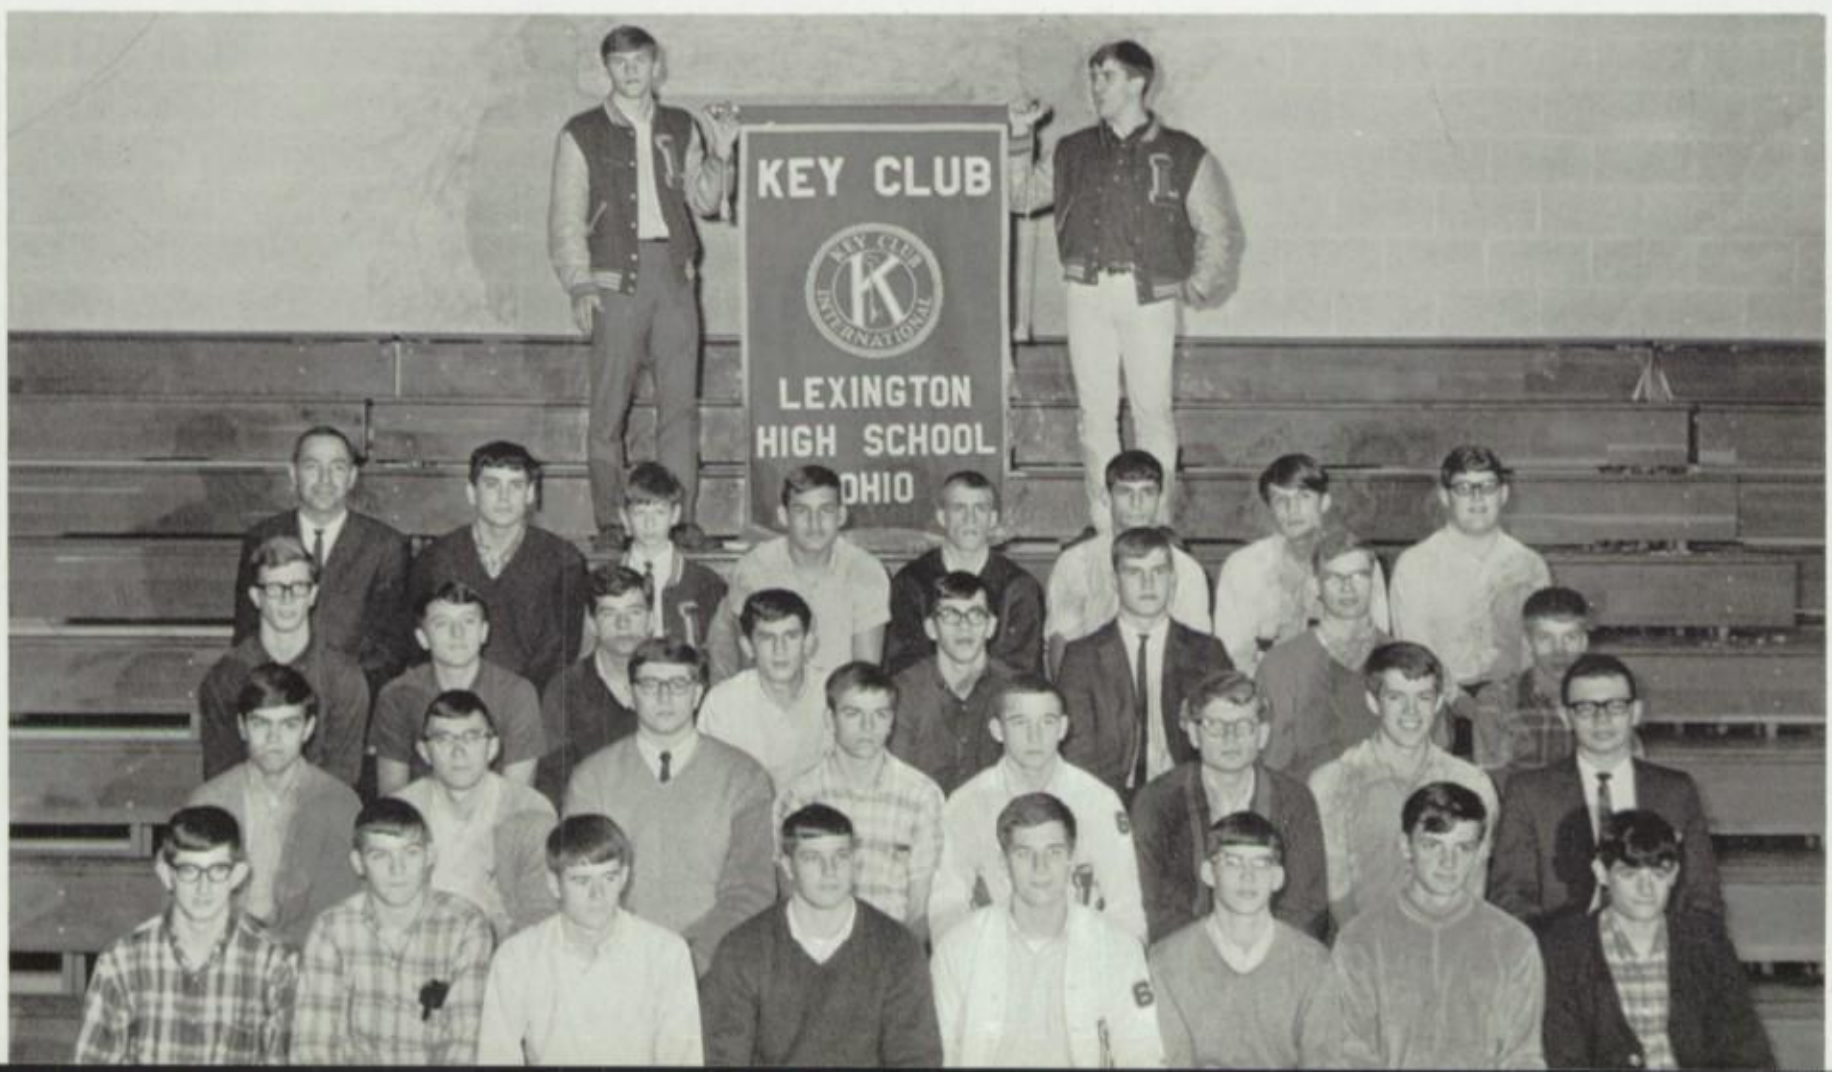

"Aw, come on guys!"

The Key Club, associated with Kiwanis Club, did many worthwhile projects this year. Among these were: marching for Project Heart Beat, working at the Mid-Ohio Sports Car Race Track during the summer to make money for the football field, buying straw and planting grass on the football field, buying toys and decorating a Christmas tree for the children in the pediatrics ward at Mansfield General Hospital, and supporting the Kiwanis Scholarship Fund which will be awarded to one of the Key Club members. Two dances were held by the members of the Key Club as well as a ping-pong tournament. Key Club pins were awarded to members at the end of the year.

Slave feeds master

One of the largest clubs this year, Y-Teens were very active. To raise money, they held two bake sales and a car wash. Homecoming corsages were sold and the largest money-making project was the selling of candy. The club, along with other area Y-Teen and Hi-Y groups, marched on Heart Sunday for the Heart Fund. By participating in their many activities, members earned points towards their New York City trip, which was taken over Easter vacation.

F.T.A.'ers Assist Teachers

The object of F.T.A. is to encourage students to enter into an educational occupation and to provide a background for students interested in education. F.T.A.'ers aided the teachers by grading papers, substituting, and working as lab assistants. They traveled to Otterbein and to Ohio Wesleyan Colleges. An annual F.T.A. Banquet was held to award those who had earned the required number of points.

Cultural Exchange Looks to Future

The main goal of this year's Cultural Exchange Club was to raise money in hope that next year an exchange student might be able to attend LHS. To raise money a spaghetti supper was held in addition to the profits made from the paper machines. Guest speakers at the meetings were exchange students from other schools.

The newly organized French Club was formed so that students might learn more about the language and customs of the French people. The group went Christmas caroling during the yuletide season. They also made tapes of the French carols and sent them to Lt. McKinley in Viet Nam. The highlights of the year included the Mardi Gras Ball in March and a PIQNIQUE in the spring. Mrs. McKinley was the advisor of the largest club we had this year at LHS.

Speech Club Goes Trophy Happy

Two of the nine speech tournaments the Speech Club participated in were held at Lexington, one of which the student teacher Roxanne Fitt was in charge of. For Christmas the club members participated in the annual Christmas program put on by the choirs. Members also competed in the District One Act Play and Poetry Reading Contest. The debate team won the District Tourney and was sent to the State Tourney. A banquet was held at the end of the year to award the members who had received the required number of points.

Ski Club Learns Proper Techniques

The members of the Ski Club, a newly formed club this year, took lessons on the proper way to ski at an area ski resort. The purpose of the club was to have fun and to become more informed about and skilled at the art of skiing. A party was held in the Club Room at the Snow Trails Ski Lodge featuring a movie on skiing which starred Olympic Gold Medal Champion Stein Eriksen.

The purpose of National Honor Society is to give recognition to high scholastic, service and activity achievers and to provide a tutoring service for other LHS students. It is a service organization which is a part of the national chapter of NHS. Twelve new members were inducted this year. They included two seniors, two juniors, and eight sophomores.

Club Meets New Personalities

The Spanish Club provided the students with an opportunity to study the Spanish language. Some of the highlights of the meetings were having Spanish-speaking guests and meeting with Spanish Clubs from other schools. A party was held for the members of the club--complete with piñatas and Spanish food. When Mrs. Kinzer left the school system, Miss Blair took over as advisor.

Home Economics girls met once a month to get better acquainted with each other and to learn the art and science of homemaking. During the year a beautician discussed hair styles and a speaker talked on ceramics. The girls spent one evening working for the Red Cross by making memo pads, cartoon booklets, and crossword puzzles. A Christmas dinner, cooked by the girls, was held along with a gift exchange. The juniors treated the seniors to a smorgasbord dinner in the spring.

Art Club Held Art Show

A newly established club this year, the Art Club provided the students with an opportunity to work freely and pursue their projects outside of class. Mrs. Soulen, the advisor, watched over meetings which were held Thursday nights after school. The highlight of the year was the art show held March 3, 4, & 5 at the Leland Hotel in Mansfield.

Cadets Keep Busy To Earn Points

Our leader--Mrs. Teeter

A ditto is typed by Donna, then . . .

Commercial Cadets were kept busy this year typing reports, bulletins, and programs for businessmen, teachers, students, and organizations. They furnished programs for school events free of charge. Outside individuals and organization were charged a small fee. The money earned was used to buy equipment for the business department of the school. A banquet and party was held in the spring when those with the required 100 points received pins.

G.A.A. provided fun and recreation for the high school girls and also opportunities for new friendships. It helped the girls to develop an understanding of sportsmanship. Some of the highlights of the year were a Mother's Night, interscholastic basketball, volleyball, and ping-pong tournaments, and a banquet held in May at which the girls were awarded patches, letters, charms, and pins, according to the number of points they had earned.

Sixth Annual Science Fair Held

Toni Kiger proudly displays her project concerning fruit fly mutations.

Out of a total of Forty-four projects, three received ratings of superior at the Sixth Annual Junior High Science Fair on Wednesday, March 15, 1967. Those students receiving superiors for their projects were Dixie Pollock, Toni Kiger, both eighth graders, and Jim and Dixie received excellents at the District Science Fair. Unfortunately, Toni was not able to attend.

In her project, Dixie Pollock made a hurricane as it would appear over a large body of water.

The 1967 LEXIAN Staff would like to say a deep and sincere thank you to everyone who made this yearbook possible. We would like to thank not only the people who were responsible for the printing and designing of the yearbook but also the people who offered their time and help on our many small problems. We greatly appreciate the teachers and administration for letting us leave class to work on deadlines or to take pictures, for bothering them with facts and questions, and for all the help they have given us. We would like to thank the area businessmen for purchasing ad space and the Senior parents and guardians who contributed to our fund. We would especially like to say thank you to the Lexington area residents and students for purchasing a 1967 LEXIAN. From the front cover to the last page, we hope this year's yearbook allows you to relive and enjoy the 1966-67 school year.

Sincerely,

1967 LEXIAN Staff
